Landslide Dams a Valley and Endangers Several Towns.

Conditions Improving in Frisco in Spite of Number to Be Felt.

SUNDAY IS THE STRICKEN CITY.

Sacramento, Cal., May 7.—A giant landslide, caused by the recent earthquake, has damaged Capay Valley, in Gold county. A dam that has fallen from the mountain side hacked up the water a hundred feet deep. It is hoped the water overflow will be gradual for if the dam gives way there will be serious trouble. The towns of Capay, Hamsey and Guinda are threatened. The inhabitants, numbering nearly a thousand are camped on the hillside.

San Francisco Conditions Improving.
Washington, May 7.—A dispatch from General Greeley, from San Francisco, says the condition there is steadily improving. A rough estimate places the number of people now being fed at 150,000, but proceeding with methods calculated upon will largely reduce this number. Conditions are plentiful as flour and potatoes go, but extremely limited to other articles.

Yesterday (Sunday) in Stricken City.

San Francisco, May 7.—The first accident in connection with the dynamiting of the dangerous cable by engineers of the army took place yesterday. The engineers were working in the down town quarter. Twice had dynamite been exploded under the facade of a tall ruin and the third charge was in when the wall fell. Three soldiers were buried but a mass of twisted iron partly shielded them, and only one was hurt.

All the municipal departments were closed except police stations and hospitals.

Among the churches open air services were the rule, even where the buildings were unharmed. At Golden Gate park, the usual Sunday afternoon concert was given before thousands.

Coroner Walsh, after revising the list of victims of fire and earthquake today informed General Greeley that the total number of cases handled by his office was 319, of which 124 were identified. This report shows 39 less fatalities than previous counts.

The streets of the burned region were thronged with sightseers. Every train from nearby towns and every ferry boat was packed with people eager to get a glimpse of the devastation. Booths of street fakirs sprang up over night along the curbs prepared to furnish refreshments and most of them enjoyed a profitable trade.

The work of construction and tearing down continued on the hillside. Several hundred frame dwellings now appear among the destroyed structures and foundations are prepared for many more.

It is estimated $20,000 worth of negotiable securities are missing. A small amount of cash was secured. The police found several thousand dollars worth of notes on the office floor. The offices of three lawyers in the same building were entered and $50,000 worth of negotiable papers stolen.

Score Injured in a Wreck.

Camden, N. J., May 7.—The Cape May Express on the West Jersey Seashore road was wrecked today by breaking a rail. The car overturned and a score of people were injured, but none fatally. The gas tank under the car exploded, causing great excitement, but the fire was extinguished before any of the injured were burned.

Hurt in Trolley Car Collision.

New Brunswick, N. J., May 7.—Eighteen persons were injured by a head-on collision between trolley cars near Plainhouse this morning. Motorman Wm. Tins was the only one uninjured.

The circulation of The Sun for the month of April was 4,018, a day average. Business instinct tells you that it is the paper that tells its circulation daily that merits your confidence.

POLICE FOUND MARE'S NEST.

Bonapartists in Paris Backed Up the Labor Row.

Paris, May 7.—Papers seized by the police during the recent demolition searches, it is claimed, show a Bonapartist subscription of $140 to the funds of the Confederation of Labor for the apparent purpose of stimulating the revolutionary movement, and also a document directing the Bonapartist leaders to assemble at the strike center when the agitation reached its height.

Interior Minister Clemenceau attaches serious importance to the seized papers as disclosing the designs of the Bonapartists and monarchists to utilize the strikes for political ends. Many monks have been expelled from Paris.

ROOSEVELT IS TO STAND PAT

Declares Will Not Change Railroad Legislation Views.

Believes Congress Will Accept His Views and Repeals Allison's Amendment.

SPEAKER CANNON'S BIRTHDAY

Washington, May 7.—President Roosevelt reiterated his views on railroad legislation in a telegram sent to the legislative committee of the Pennsylvania state grange. The telegram follows:

Washington, May 6.
"W. F. Hill and Members Legislative Committee Pennsylvania State Grange:

"Telegram received. I am happy to tell you that not only am I standing on my original proposition as regards rate legislation, but it seems likely that congress will take this position too. The Hepburn bill meets my views as I have from the beginning stated. The Allison amendment is only declaratory of what the Hepburn bill must mean, supposing it to be constitutional, and no genuine friend of the bill can object to it without stultifying himself. In addition I should be glad to get certain amendments, such as those commonly known as the Long and Overman amendments, but they are not vital, and even without them the Hepburn bill with the Allison amendment contains practically exactly what we have both originally and always since asked for, and if enacted into law it will represent the longest step ever yet taken in the direction of solving the railway rate problem."
"THIRD, ROOSEVELT."

Speaker Cannon's Anniversary.

Washington, May 7.—Speaker Cannon is celebrating his seventeenth birthday today. The great official event will be the occasion of a reception at Arlington hotel tonight when the speaker will be the guest of the house of representatives. Republicans and Democrats alike. Fifteen hundred invitations have been sent out.

The Publicity Bill.

Washington, May 7.—Perry Belmont was asked today what he thought of the proposed amendments to the publicity bill. He replied:

"I believe the proposed amendments will improve the bill, which already covers national and congressional committees, but did not provide for the publication of contributions and expenditures until the close of campaign, while the amendments provide for publication both before and after elections. As the principle of publicity is preserved intact by the amendments, I am confident that no member of our organization will object to them."

Signs the Alaska Bill.

Washington, May 7.—The president today signed the bill providing for a delegate in congress from Alaska.

THE WORK OF A MOB.

Shot Into House and Injured Girl—One Mobster Killed.

Clarksville, Tenn., May 7.—Thirteen men, all heavily armed, went to the home of Thomas Stewart, after warning him to leave, and attempted to blow up his home with dynamite. The house was partially wrecked. All the members of mob shot into the house seriously injuring his thirteen-year-old daughter and killing Stewart's face with shot. Stewart returned fire and drove the mob away. This morning the body of Newell Winter was found with a bullet hole in the side. A coroner's jury copenated Stewart and rendered a verdict that the man had been killed by one of his own crowd.

The Statehood Bill.

Washington, May 7.—All of the minor amendments to the statehood bill are either disposed of or in shape to be made the subject of agreement at a moment's notice. At Saturday's session of the conferees on that measure the crux of the situation was reached for the first time. The question of the administration of Arizona and New Mexico as one state was discussed at length. No proposition for a compromise was offered, and the meeting adjourned until Tuesday.

DIRE THREATS BY THE "BLACK HAND."

New Orleans Italians Are in Terror, Fearing Death At Any Moment.

New Orleans, May 7.—Seven of the wealthiest Italian merchants of New Orleans are quaking with fear as a result of the operations here of what is declared to be a branch of the Black Hand band. The life of Detective Dentolio, of the police force, who is actively engaged in the task of ferreting out the authors of threatening letters received by the intended victims of the band, has also been threatened.

The demands are for sums ranging from $2,000 to $5,000, and are apparently graded according to the reputed wealth of the prospective victim. Among those who have been singled out and who are now in daily fear of the Black Hand because they have disobeyed the demand for ransom are A. Monteleone, a wealthy shoe manufacturer; Augustina Russo, Ditrepli, Vincet Losico, Pasquale Taurilina, A. Catana and Antonio Paterno. The latter has been threatened with death, and the kidnapping of his daughter is also threatened.

NO INJUNCTION

TAKEN OUT AGAINST THE CARNIVAL COMPANY TODAY.

Objectors to Entertainment May Appeal to the Council at Session Tonight.

The threatened injunction against the Cosmopolitan Carnival and Wild West company had not materialized at press time and the carnival company management stated that the carnival would continue for another week unless a restraining order was issued from the circuit court.

The objection to the carnival company continuing its exhibitions is made by members of the Trinity street M. E. church. Saturday they announced their intention of asking for an injunction in circuit court but this morning no such action was taken. A petition was this morning circulated among residents adjacent to the carnival grounds and some signers were secured. It is understood that this is a preliminary step towards entering the courts, or possibly a preliminary to an appeal to the council.

The council cannot stop the carnival company from operating as long as it gets the proper licenses for shows. The council can do no more than refuse the company the privileges usually given such organizations in the way of free concession privileges, etc. This can be refused all right, but the company can get out a license.

The matter is attracting a great deal of attention and the outcome will be watched with interest.

She was a young woman of charming personality and was prominent in church work.

Brunn's suicide is attributed to mental derangement.

POCKET PHONE IS POSSIBLE

New York Inventor Tells of His Wonderful Invention.

Machine Reproduces Conversation Passing Over Wires Located Three Miles Away.

IS ONLY RECEIVER AS YET

Cottage City, Mass., May 7.—Chas. E. Alden of New York, who has been pursuing experiments here since just fall in wireless telephoning, says he has solved the problem of wireless telephoning, and the result is so simple that it is likely to create a sensation in the business world as well as in scientific circles.

Mr. Alden, while studying the problem, constructed an instrument so small that it can be put into a vest pocket, which attached to a wireless battery such as is used by the Marconi system, at once begins catching conversations carried along ordinary telephone wires, the distance depending upon the energy behind the telephone wires that are sending the messages.

Voice in the Room.

It was one stormy night a few weeks ago when Mr. Alden had perfected his little receiver and set it up in his studio here on Martha's Vineyard island, that he sat smoking his after dinner pipe and wondering where he had better set up his sending apparatus, that he was startled by the sound of a voice in the room of which he was the only occupant. Outside the storm howled along the rocks and beat the waves against the coast of the island.

"Hello! Hello! Is that Mrs. Smith? Yes? Come over this evening if you can."

"All right. Good by."

She's Neighborhood Gossip.

Like a flash Mr. Alden realized the situation. His little instrument was not waiting for his sending apparatus to be set up, but was puffing messages from the New England Telephone company's wire which ran along the road three miles away.

"I was sitting in my one room one night when it dawned upon me that with the wireless telegraphy comparatively simple the wireless telephoe was not equally simple," said Mr. Alden. "I jotted down on paper my ideas as they came to me, and the next morning went to work upon my machine. I was merely experimenting, not having the remotest idea that I was anywhere near success. Suddenly, when I did not dream I had perfected the machine I received the message from neighboring ordinary telephones as I have told you. The revelation took me off my feet."

Called "New Detector."

The basis of the system is like that of the wireless telegraph. But a small invention, the details of which he does not make public, completes it. This is called the "new detector." It is this machine attached to the wireless batteries which is responsible for the results.

No wire was attached to the receiving instrument, the latter simply being placed on a table in a room. At present Mr. Alden is working on the sending parts of the apparatus.

Cairo Lady's Sudden Illness.

Central City, Ky., May 7.—As west-bound I. C. train 121, going toward Paducah, reached Central City Saturday, the services of physicians were sought to attend an unknown woman who had become unconscious on the train. It was at first thought she was dead, but after removing her to the Commercial Hotel, where Dr. Giannini and Tyldesley worked with here for a couple of hours and she regained consciousness. She said she was the wife of W. E. Gholson, a prominent merchant of Cairo, Ill.; and that she was on her way from Louisville, where she had been in St. Anthony's hospital. While she is out of danger now she had a very close call, at one time the doctors despairing of reviving her.

Dined the Delegates.

Home, May 7.—King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena last night gave a dinner in honor of the delegates to the International Postal congress, Edward Rosewater of Omaha, and Capt. A. M. Brooks, superintendent of foreign mail of the United States postoffice department, attended. After dinner their majesties conversed with the delegates.

HEINZE TO BE MONTANA SENATOR

Senator Clark's Rivalship For Announced His Probable Successor.

New York, May 7.—Within twenty four hours after the announcement by United States Senator W. A. Clark of Montana, that he will not be a candidate for re-election next year, comes the statement that his successor will be his former business and political foe, P. Augustus Heinze, another copper man; and that this is a part of the deal by which the long and bitter war between the Amalgamated and Heinze copper interests in Montana was settled last February.

Although at the time and for years before it was said that Mr. Heinze had ambition to go to the United States senate, there was no hint that the realization of his ambition was made part of the consideration for the cessation of the copper war. In fact, it was stated a few months ago that there would be a fight between Heinze and Clark over the senatorship. Though formerly allied in politics and friendly in business, the two have been enemies for the last few years.

FRIENDSHIP COSTLY

YOUNG FARMER ASSISTS FRIEND IN ELUDING THE LAW.

Was Caught Himself, Having Committed Crime in the Act—Lesson Expensive One.

Ernest Clamahan, a young farmer residing on the outskirts of the city, believes that a "sucker is born every minute," and having once been a sucker will take the tip in the future and steer clear of all chances of a repetition. Clamahan's experience in the "sucker" line costs him $25 and costs ten days in jail, but he has taken an appeal on the jail sentence and may come out, but it will cost if he does.

"I was walking with a companion," he stated to the court, "but I will not mention his name. He carried a small .32-caliber pistol and when we got in the rear of the High school building, on West Kentucky avenue, my companion pulled the pistol out and shot it."

"Two policemen stood on the corner about a square away but we had not seen them before the pistol was fired off. The policemen saw us, however, and started in our direction. "My companion handed me the pistol unobserved by the officers, and instructed me to keep it so the officers would not know who shot. I rammed it down my pocket and had not had it three minutes until searched and the weapon was taken from me."

Judge Sanders could not overlook the offense and assessed the minimum fine of $25 and costs and ten days in jail and granted an appeal.

HEAVY VOTE CAST.

Parliamentary Elections in France Show But Few Changes.

Paris, May 7.—The results thus far announced in the general parliamentary elections which were held Sunday show few changes in the chamber, most of the former deputies being re-elected, but an extraordinary number of second ballots will be necessary in Paris. The present ballot gives the opposition a majority but this second ballot, which will be taken May 20, is expected to repudiate the results of the 1902 election when representatives were equally divided. Nevertheless the government has gained one seat. It is estimated that there was a record poll of votes. Owing to the excitement caused by the recent strike and disorders occasioned by the inventories of church property the polling booths were guarded by the military and police, but the day passed without incident and intervention by the authorities was unnecessary.

Servia's Peter Receives Our John.

Belgrade, May 7.—King Peter today received the new American minister to Servia, Hon. John Riddle, who presented his credentials. The ceremony was marked with great pomp.

The library board will not meet tomorrow night due to a necessary departure from the city of President E. W. Bagby. The meeting will be called on the return of Mr. Bagby. Business of a routine nature is all that will come before the board.

ANOTHER EFFORT FOR COMPROMISE

Of Phone Troubles to be Made by City Solicitor.

The Council Meets in Regular Session Tonight At 7:30 At the City Hall.

MATTERS WHICH ARE TO COME

City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., will advise the city again, at the council meeting, tonight, to make another effort to compromise the differences with the East Tennessee Telephone Co.

"I think it is advisable to make a compromise," said the solicitor today, "and I shall so tell the council. If we do not, the case will probably run along for some time, and cost the city a great deal more in the meantime than it will sacrifice by a compromise. I shall point out several excellent reasons to the board tonight, but shall, of course be governed by their action."

The city solicitor says the case will be a hard fight, and he frankly advises the city that it will be making a good bargain to compromise the matter now, if it can be done on anything like reasonable terms.

The council will have a busy session. There are a number of new ordinances to be brought in—some from the board of health and others for street improvements.

The board of health will present a resolution which will give that body the power to contract for the disposal of the garbage by contract for the next four months. The board hoped to get an ordinance through providing for this by tax, but, as all tax measures must be passed at the time the tax levy is made, it could not be done.

The park commissioners will present a resolution to the council asking that it purchase a hundred feet from Mrs. T. H. Puryear for the extension of that thoroughfare from Kentucky avenue to Broadway.

LEFT LAND IN HUGES.

Some Queer Cases of Earthquakes in Sonoma County, Cal.

Oakland, Cal., May 7.—For the first time since the quake of April 18, Sonoma county, was restored today. It disclosed communications with Healdsburg, Sonoma that much damage was done to business property and residences by the tremor, the loss there approximating $500,000.

In Alexander Valley, five miles north of Healdsburg, the ground was left in ridges, and many landslides occurred, damming some of the small creeks and forming lakes. Windsor, seven miles south of Healdsburg, also suffered, many of its finest buildings being entirely destroyed.

Sebastopol, Sonoma county, which was just recovering from its last big fire, is once more a pile of ruins. The damage there is estimated at $250,000.

Just Turned It Aside.

Washington, May 7.—The bill requiring publicity regarding all election contributions prepared by the national publicity organization headed by Perry Belmont and introduced by Mr. McCall, of Massachusetts, was sidetracked Saturday by the house committee on election of presidential vice president and representatives in congress. The bill has been under consideration by the committee for some time past under an agreement making it a special order until disposed of. From the first, members of the committee complained that the bill was loosely drawn.

Track Left to Evans.

Nashville, Tenn., May 7.—T. A. Wright, who had announced himself a candidate for the republican nomination for governor of Tennessee has withdrawn from the contest. This leaves H. Clay Evans, late consul general at London and former pension commissioner, the only candidate for the republican nomination.

Will Open the Door in Time.

Washington, May 7.—The Chinese government has given notice that it will open certain Manchurian ports and interior cities to the world's trade only after the completion of the separation of the powers for the government of the Manchurian colonies.

"The Atterbury System"

STRIKING indeed are the Atterbury System Clothes, when taken in comparison with other makes. There's a certain style and elegance, coupled with refined taste and perfection in fit that place them at the very top. To the particular man, accustomed to patronizing the merchant tailor to satisfy his discriminating taste, they at once appeal. Since their introduction by us we've satisfied men who never before wore ready made clothes. The cost is about half, the tailoring just as good, if not better.

Sunday's Game Here.

The Indians scribbled the Jacksonville Indians until the spectators began leaving the park. The game was interesting until the Indians began using their war clubs and slapping hit after hit to the field. Coombs proved "easy picking" for the Warriors, and the story is too long to tell.

The Indians were goose egged until the fourth inning when the fun began. The visitors had called twice in the second inning, due to Chenault's dropping two balls. Nipper was put in, and the way he handled Ames was an exhibition in itself. Ames proved effective, and two of the hits scored were little "pop-ups" which would have been handled but for horse show luck pure and simple.

There was good playing on both sides, Paducah showing excellent team work. At one time with second and third bases filled and a grounder was hit to the infield, and an exhibition of fast playing was given the half frozen fans in the grand stand. The ball went to Wetzel. He picked it up and fielded home to Nipper. The runner was caught after some little toying and quick as lightning the ball was handled to second base and the runner between second and third tagged. At this juncture, the batsman who had gone to first on the choice, tried to make it to second. Gilligan tagged him twenty minutes in advance of the schedule, but the "bump" could not see it that way.

The scores were not clearly made bases on balls adding in most of them. Some excellent fielding on the part of the Jacksonville boys robbed several Indians of good hits.

Heavy slugging was a feature of the game.

SPEAR HEADS.

Chenault was cold yesterday and seemed to be unable to take an interest in the game. The big catcher seemed dazed, or ill.

Belt does not seem to have much of a wig to second base. He is still a good catcher, however.

Brady shows up in great form. He is the same Brady who played third base and left field for Hopkissville.

Yesterday the fans nearly froze in the grand stand while the players fought.

The Jacksonville bunch is the "bee-fugest" bunch ever appearing before a Paducah grand stand.

The Jacksonville team does not show up nearly so strong as Mattoon.

"Pap" Farnbaker, back to the dope pipe for you.

It looks like it is really a hard matter for a team to earn a run against Paducah. The infield and outfield the Indians afford is well nigh perfect.

Lloyd says he will try to take everything the first jump out of the box. He wants to go through the league like he did last year when so many straight games were taken.

Cairo is no more anxious to meet Paducah than Paducah is to meet Cairo.

Mattoon players have begun to "rub it in" on Devaney. They claim they did not get a fair deal. If Devaney is unfair at all, or off in any way, he shows no partiality and is as bad for one side as the other.

Belt, of the Jacksonville team, is a chronic kicker against the umpire, and will be conspicuous for his bearing this season. It's an old trick of his. The Jacks were clearly outclassed yesterday and because they were defeated so badly began laying the blame to the umpire.

Holycross knocked out a double in the tenth inning and won for Danville Sunday. He played in the outfield.

DR. THOMPSON TO COME.

Accepts Call to the Paducah First Baptist Church Pulpit.

Reverend Calvin M. Thompson, of Denver, Col., who preached to the First Baptist congregation here several weeks ago and was called to the pulpit, has formally accepted. He will come to Paducah on the 19th to begin his work among the religious workers of the city.

Dr. Thompson is a man of family and his family will follow him in a few weeks. Mrs. J. S. Cheek, who is now occupying the parsonage on North Fifth street, will vacate this week, and the building will be made ready for the new occupant at once.

Dr. Thompson made a decidedly favorable impression when here lately and will no doubt develop the seed of popularity sown by his first visit.

Growing Aches and Pains.

Mrs. Josie Sauer, Bromond, Tex., writes, April 15, 1902: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for three years. I would not be without it in the house. BANQUET CLOSES CONVENTION.

State T. P. A. Has Big Banquet and Satisfactory Business Session.

The annual convention of the state Travelers Protective Association was adjourned Saturday night after the banquet and proved a very successful convention. The business session was closed in the afternoon and all delegates went to the hall park on a special car and witnessed the game between Mattoon and Paducah.

The banquet began at 8 o'clock at the Palmer and lasted several hours. Dr. J. R. Coleman was toastmaster, and the speeches, witty responses to toasts were new and enjoyed very much. The music was furnished during the banquet by the Deal orchestra.

Through an oversight of a previous agreement, Paducah was denied the meeting next year, but after the election, and before the meeting adjourned, the matter was righted and the next meeting of the state association ordered to be held here.

THE PRESIDENT

BEING NAMED BY REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS FOR RE-ELECTION.

His Exposure of Methods of Standard Oil Co. Takes Both Parties By Storm.

Washington, May 7.—One of the topics uppermost here is the probable effect of the Standard Oil report on President Roosevelt's political future. There is a general disposition to regard Mr. Roosevelt as presidential timber despite what he himself has said to discredit the use of his name in that connection.

The thorough exposure which he makes, through the bureau of corporations, of the methods of the Standard Oil has started a bonfire for him for the renomination for president. Strange to say, numerous Democrats are now mentioning him for another term.

One of the prominent Democratic congressmen from Kentucky said today:

"I shall not be surprised if Roosevelt is the nominee of both the Democratic and the Republican national conventions in 1908. The Republican leaders will throw him overboard if they think they dare to do so, but there will be such a groundswell of popular demand for him that they will not dare. Roosevelt is by far a better Democrat than he is a Republican, and if it were not for the fact that he goes by name of Republican he would be the most available man to head the Democratic ticket. If he keeps on fighting the battles of the people against the corporations and trusts the people will very nearly nominate him regardless of party."

SUPP. LIEB HOME.

Attended the Late Educational Conference Held in Lexington.

Supt. C. M. Lieb, of the Paducah public schools, returned Sunday from Lexington after attending the conference for education in the south. The meeting was a success in every sense of the word, and some celebrities were in attendance.

The conference is not held by men of an educational calling strictly speaking. It is a conference of every body and anybody interested in education. While educators predominated, there were others not closely identified with education as a profession.

Speeches were made and the educational conditions in the south generally discussed. Among those in attendance were Gov. Beckham, Kentucky; Gov. Folk, Missouri; several well known eastern editors and several heads of the departments in the Wannamaker stores.

A PRACTICAL JOKE

Was the Cause of a False Fire Alarm Yesterday.

A practical joke caused an unnecessary run of the Nos. 1 and 4 fire companies yesterday afternoon.

Some telephone linemen were working in the exchange of the Home Telephone Company. They rigged up a small mound of black powder and arranged wires to spark when connected in the loose powder. They did this to frighten a companion who was quietly working in another portion of the building.

The spark worked and also did the fire alarm when the startled linemen saw the flames and the smoke. He thought the house was afire, that some wires had crossed, and he set the entire system to go jag.

AN ULTIMATUM

CARPENTER CONTRACTORS WILL "STAND PAT" IN THEIR POSITION.

The Strikers Are Given Until Wednesday to Consider—Open Shops Probable.

Local union carpenters contractors will "stand pat." This decision was reached this morning at a final meeting of the contractors. If the carpenters who are out because of the disagreement in the new wage scale do not accept the ultimatum it will mean open shops here. This is the final action taken by the contractors, and it is "up to the carpenters" now.

The contractors met this morning and conferred for more than an hour. There were nine present, including the biggest contractors in the city. The scale was argued and at the conclusion of the meeting a definite decision to accede to nothing was forced, and the result made known to the strikers.

"Our decision this morning means that we will give the strikers until Wednesday to decide what they will do," a contractor stated this morning. "and if they do not come across and accept the conditions as presented it will mean that we will run open shops and employ whom we desire. It will mean that we will employ union and non-union men and pay what we want to. If a man is worth more than $2.80, the new scale demanded, we will pay it. What we object to is the fingers the unions bring in. Some men who are members of the union can not really earn $1.50 a day yet we are expected to pay them as much as skilled labor."

The carpenters stand just as firm as the contractors, but will hold a meeting and consider the ultimatum before Wednesday. Some of the smaller contractors have already signed, but this will have little, if any effect, on the bigger contractors.

WITTE IS LET DOWN EASY BY THE CZAR

Escapes Trials and Has Honors Conferred Upon Him.

St. Petersburg, May 7.—The official announcement of Count Witte's retirement from the premiership, the retirement of M. Durnovo from the ministry of the interior and M. Gorevsky's elevation to the premiership appeared today in the official Messenger. The names of the other members of the new cabinet were not gazetted. It is asserted that one or two are hesitating, notably M. Izvolsky, curator of St. Petersburg High schools and universities, who has been named for foreign minister, knowing full well that the cabinet is a make-shift of the emperor to let both Witte and Durnovo down. The usual reports do not contain the slightest suggestion of the emperor's displeasure.

On the contrary, the receipt to Witte puts the motives for his retirement in the best possible light, accepting the excuse of ill health at its face value.

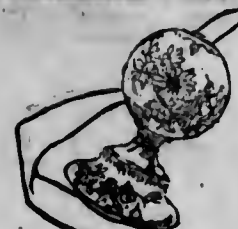

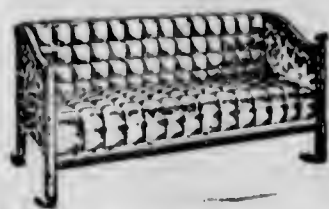

The whole tone of the receipt is extraordinarily cordial, and besides it confers on Witte the order of Alexander Nevsky set in brilliant. It is the second highest decoration in Russia. Witte also retains his title of count and is appointed a member of the council of the empire, or upper house of the new parliament, and remains a secretary of state.

Durnovo, in giving up the ministry of the interior, becomes a secretary of state, retains the dignity of senator and is made a member of the council of the empire.

Daily Thought.

"A habit of cheerfulness enables one to transmute apparent misfortunes into real blessings."

Tennessee's senatorial wrangle ends with next Saturday. On that day the democrats decide, between the two contestants. Senator Carmack and ex-Gov. Taylor, in a state primary. The contest is claimed for each gentleman by their friends, but until the full count is in either way so even is their strength, there was right to claim the victory. There was, perhaps, never a more hotly contested or more heated canvass than the one in question, either in Tennessee or any other state, and the republicans of the Volunteer state have not failed to note with much encouragement the disruption engendered by this contest and the state gubernatorial canvass, also on, within the ranks of their enemy. The republicans, in view of the more than favorable conditions, will go out after the plums in the next election with more than the usual vim and also prospects of success with a good ticket headed, as now seems certain, by the Hon. H. Clay Evans, for governor.

In view of the late developments of the investigation prosecuted by Missouri as to the Standard Oil company's way of doing business, in that state and the recent indictments found in New York against several big railroads and the American Sugar Refining company and officers and subsidiary corporations the reply of the Standard officials as to the strictures of the administration declaring them corrupt and unjust, and the denials of the New York railroad officials as to favoritism, etc., are clear evidence that the public is regarded as fools all the time because fooled a part of the time. The eyes of the people are being opened, however, and their abuses will have to answer in the courts and under the laws of the land.

The national assembly of Russia is to meet next Thursday. The future of the country largely depends on the actions of the body and the reception of these actions by the government. The people through their representatives will speak and the government through the czar must not upon the doings of the assembly. Any strong stand on either side is certain to be received with disfavor and may precipitate disastrous results. It will take strong tempering to not cause another revolt in Russia, without doubt.

The Standard Oil trust and the railroad rebaters deny in strenuous terms the charges filed against them by Commissioner Garfield and their indictment as law breakers President Roosevelt made in his last message. Their denials are not surprising, but in view of the facts given it is quite amusing. Some courts may find cate them; the people will. In the meantime believe them gullies as charged, as they have a right to do.

The new mayor of Pittsburg, who was elected as a reformer, has started the place by attempting to make good his promises. He has set the entire people by the ears through fear of exposure. The fact would indicate the town is a great deal rotter than was thought. It is a prediction in view of the conditions that the new mayor will be foiled in much of the good work he would do.

The democrats and the republicans alike are claiming the victory over the rate bill compromise, but of course the victory belongs to the majority. After all the victory comes to the people and they know to whom to give credit and will in no wise be tardy in doing so.

Labor troubles and commercial defaults are annoying, but not very damaging to the business of the country. The fact is these things at best are only like the pests of the season to the animal world, not lasting nor very fatal.

The house having well finished its labors will now await the pleasures of the senate and Speaker Cannon as to future work. In the meantime the members, if given a chance to do so, will "wind" themselves on all subjects and especially the tariff.

The rate bill being considered complete this week, probably Friday or Saturday, will bring the senators' vote on the net passage by a decided vote is freely predicted.

The government of France seems to have won easily in the parliamentary elections Sunday. In Paris only was any disaffection of note shown.

The Cure of Headaches.

By Osteopathy.

"What home would you pill to treat a headache?" asks a layman. Any bone that may be out of its correct position in the neck or back, so as to bring its pressure upon the nerves which express the pain sense—that is, if the headache happens to be due to a bony slip; but of course it may not be at all. That is one frequent cause, but there are many others which are apt to be operative. A muscular contraction in the back, in the neck, or over the head, may likewise cause headache. Indigestion, eye-strain, mental fatigue, a sluggish liver, constipation, kidney disease, and many other things are frequent causes of headache. Hence the cure of headache osteopathically is the cure of its cause or causes. To find the remedy these causes, having as they usually do, an anatomical basis, requires special and thorough training, and that is why osteopathy exists as an independent school of medicine. Its practitioners are specialists. They cure headaches, as they do other diseases not by "pulling" a bone, unless a bone needs "pulling," but by finding the cause of each special headache and giving that cause whatever treatment is needed to cure it. So in a dozen different headaches none might be treated alike osteopathically, and yet ten or eleven of the dozen would likely be cured.

Osteopathy is probably doing more for suffering humanity than any recent discovery, and I should like for you to investigate its merits. I should be pleased to see all who may be interested in osteopathy at any time, from 9 a. m. to 12 and 2 to 5 p. m.

Osteopathy is the sane, rational treatment of illness and disorders.

THE CIRCUIT COURT

SUIT FOR DAMAGES FOR MALPRACTICE NOW ON TRIAL.

There Was Little of Interest in the "Doings" of the Big Court Today.

The case of W. M. Pace against Dr. B. L. Bradley has been on trial all day in circuit court. Pace had trouble with an eye and went to the defendant to treat it. He alleges that the proper treatment was not applied and that as a result he lost the eye sight permanently. He sues for $2,000 damages. There is a great deal of expert testimony being heard and the case will not likely be concluded before late this afternoon, if today.

G. W. Grief, W. F. Ellithrope, W. H. Pitt, C. T. Page, W. J. Boatwright and R. D. Clements were excused as petit jurors, and W. H. Utterback, G. J. Beyers, C. S. Cannon, J. R. Gray, H. Diehl, J. L. Yarbrough, George Brownell, Chris Liebel and C. E. Jennings substituted.

The case of the Western District Warehouse company against McNutt and others was dismissed and set aside.

In the case of George Johnson against the Paducah Laundry company a mandate was filed and the case stricken. The defendant won Johnson sues for damages for being scolded in a vat he fell into.

Bankruptcy Court.

Attorney E. W. Bagby will go to Murray tomorrow to take up the bankrupt matter of W. P. Stafford. Referee Bagby this morning set the involuntary bankrupt case of H. A. Douglas, of this city, for hearing on the 17th. This will be the first meeting of creditors.

Warrants in Magistrates' Courts.
Riley Pitman, a blacksmith, has been warranted in Justice John J. Diehl's court on two counts, one for flourishing a pistol and another for a breach of the peace.

It is alleged that Pitman followed his wife home after she attended the carnival and drew a pistol on Edward Garrett, her escort. Garrett beat a hasty retreat and Pitman, it is claimed, then abused his wife.

Pitman and his wife have been separated for some time, and are now in litigation for divorce. The former cases will come up for trial Wednesday afternoon.

The city reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Saddle Horses at the Top.

From Farmer's Home Journal of May 5, we note that Col. David Castelman of Clifton farm, near Louisville, has sold the 3-year-old saddle stallion "The Moor" No. 1907, to Gen. Wm. Palmer of Colorado Springs for $7,500.

"Another good sale of Kentucky saddle horses was made in New York this week. The consignment was from Shelby T. Harrison, of Lexington. The top price was $1,250 for the gelding, Little Acorn. Big Oak brought $1,025. The pair, Escort and Gallant, sold for $1,250. Ben Greer brought $700, Tolu $900 and Senator $700."

Also that "At Durand's New York Horse Show, in the saddle class, 'Little Palmer' won first. She is by Chester Dare No. 10, fourth dam by Duluth." This saddle blood, in its highest perfection, is represented in this section of Kentucky by James M. Lang's horse Rebel Dare No. 1884, by the great Chester Dare, dam by a son of Red Squirrel, second dam by Duluth. Rebel Dare, while the highest bred horse, is also said to be the best saddle horse in Jackson's Purchase.

DIOCESAN COUNCIL

TO GATHER HERE ON THE 16TH AND 17TH INST.

Dr. Blackard Held Quarterly Services at the Third Street M. E. Church Yesterday.

Grace Episcopal church will entertain the Diocesan Council of Kentucky, which comprises the western part of the state, inclusive of Louisville, on the 16th and 17th of this month. It is the 78th annual council of the Kentucky Episcopal churches and is always a most important session. Many clerical and lay delegates will be in attendance and the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary will have a number of representatives.

Bishop Charles E. Woodcock will preside over the session. He will arrive on the 15th and will preach at Grace church that evening and confirm a class at that time. Mrs. Woodcock will accompany her husband and they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Muscoe Burnett on West Broadway.

At the general conference of the M. E. church, South, now in session at Birmingham Ala., Mr. H. H. Scott of this city, was put on two important committees, the finance and colportage. All of the delegates from this conference have been well placed in committee work. Rev. H. H. Mahan, D. D., of Memphis, a former Paducah pastor, was placed on the episcopacy committee as usual and Rev. G. W. Wilson, of Dyersburg, on revisal and boundaries.

Rev. J. W. Blackard, D. D., presiding elder of the Paducah district Methodist churches, preached yesterday morning and evening at the Third street Methodist, holding his regular quarterly services. Dr. Blackard is a strong preacher and gave two fine sermons at this charge.

Rev. G. W. Hill, of Louisville, preached yesterday at the First Baptist church, of which he is in temporary charge. He and the Rev. Mr. Pettie, of Mayfield, did not exchange pulpits as at first intended. Mr. Hill's sermon at night was on "Skepticism."

Rev. J. W. Cantrell, of Hickory Grove, filled his pulpit at the Mechanic street Methodist church yesterday morning and evening, preaching strong sermons. Mr. Cantrell preaches here two Sundays of the month, and two at the Hickory Grove church.

Miss Lina Woodward, of Cairo, was the soloist at the First Presbyterian church yesterday morning. She rendered "For No, O Israel" by Dudley Buck, most effectively, for the offertory.

Much interest is being evinced in the revival that is in progress now at the Tenth street Christian church. Large congregations hear the Rev. J. W. Hudspeth, who is assisting Rev. B. W. Hiss in the work, on yesterday. His theme in the morning was "Weal and Woe of the United States of America." At night he preached on "The Redeemer, the Redeemed and the Ministry of the Angels in the Work of Redemption." Both were forcible sermons. There were three additions to the church yesterday. The services will continue from night to night.

There were three additions to the Second Baptist church yesterday. At the evening hour Rev. E. H. Cunningham administered the rite of baptism to eight persons.

Martha Wynn, colored, aged 60 died of cancer, at 918 Boyd street Sunday and will be buried tomorrow.

Escapes During His Trial and Pulls Across the River to Escape Arrest.

Charles Hamilton worked a ruse on the officers in police court this morning and escaped probably a rather severe punishment for a breach of the peace.

Hamilton lives on a shantyboat and was warranted for mistreating his wife. He appeared in court this morning without having to be arrested. He carried his small girl with him and before the evidence was concluded arose and asked to leave the court room.

"My baby's ill," he explained "and I would like to step out and get some water and fresh air for the little one."

He was granted this privilege and left the court room. No one followed. Hamilton having surrendered and seemed to be willing to stand trial. When the minutes multiplied and Hamilton did not reappear an investigation was made. It was learned the defendant had run away. Officers were dispatched after the fugitive but he beat them to the river. They stood on the river bank and watched him pull the child across the river in a skiff.

The evidence was going pretty hard against Hamilton and he probably thought it best to "vanish" and escape the fine. The police believe he has gone for good and consider it a good riddance.

Other cases were:

Jim Greer, Will Melvin, Francis Garvin, white, and John Underwood, colored, drunkenness, $1 and costs each; Louis Dunn, colored, drunk, $1 and costs; Mollie Crabtree, Dossie Dixon, Annie Toliver and Dora Williams, colored, breach of ordinance, dismissed; Pete Peterson, white, breach of peace, continued; Hawkins Bros., breach of ordinance, dismissed; Chas. Hristine, white, drunk and disorderly, $10 and costs; Luby Washington, colored, breach of peace, continued; Grace Bennett, colored, breach of the peace, $5 and costs.

REV. LITEN TO REMAIN.

German Lutheran Minister's Congregation Refuses to Let Him Leave.

Rev. A. C. Liten, pastor of the German Lutheran church on South Fourth street, will remain in Paducah. This decision was reached yesterday after a demonstration on the part of his congregation.

Rev. Liten received a call a short time ago to Yorktown, Iowa. He notified his congregation of the fact and yesterday a meeting was held and the congregation was unanimous in voting a refusal. They informed the popular minister of the action taken and he stated that he would respect the wishes of his church and remain in Paducah.

Rev. Liten expressed great appreciation of the compliment paid him by his congregation in refusing to consider his resignation. They say he is by far the best minister the church has ever had.

Leta Fay De Loach, age 15 months died Sunday morning of inflammation. The funeral was held this afternoon, services by Rev. O. W. Jones interment at Oak Grove. The deceased was the daughter of Engineer W. R. De Loach, of 927 Jackson street.

Approaching Wedding.
Captain and Mrs. James Koger have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Henrietta Koger, to Dr. Vernon Hythe, of this city. The date of the wedding is set for Tuesday, June 5.

The Danrosch Orchestra.
Walter Danrosch and his most excellent orchestra was given an appreciative reception at The Kentucky Saturday night, and what the audience lacked in numbers, although it was a very fair size audience, it made up for in enthusiastic approval. The lovers of music were out en masse, and were generous in their applause. The program was a happy selection, and it would be a hard matter to state which number pleased the more. The orchestra justified the laudations that it has received. It is probably the best musical organization that has ever paid Paducah a visit.

Miss Harris responded to an encore to her piano number, and showed her appreciation of the welcome given her. After the performance, the Matinee Musical club gave a reception in the parlors of the Eagles, the club's headquarters, in honor of Miss Harris, and it was a very enjoyable event.

Social and Literary Evening.
The literary and social department of the Broadway Methodist Epworth League will have a "Sidney Lanier Evening" in the League parlors of the church tonight at 8 o'clock. An attractive program has been arranged by the committee of which Miss Virginia Newell is chairman. A social meeting will be held the latter part of the evening. All the young people of the church and friends, are invited.

WAS FROSTY THIS MORNING.

But Garden Truck Was Not Damaged to Any Material Extent.

A light frost visited this section of the state this morning but little damage was done. The frost was not unexpected, that is to those who keep up with the weather condition, as it was predicted yesterday morning.

The cold snap set in Sunday. The government observer's records show that the highest temperature Sunday was 58 and the lowest 54, while the lowest this morning was 40. The night was clear and every indication pointed to frost.

Sunday morning Local Weather Observer Wm. Horneman received the following telegram from Louisville observatory:

"Frost probably tonight in exposed places."

The frost arrived but little damage was done. Weather Observer Borneman stated that he had talked with several gardeners and farmers and learned that the frost was necessarily a little damaging, but would not be felt. Some gardeners even went so far as to say they saw a thin skin of ice. Observer Horneman's reports show the minimum 8 degrees too high for ice.

The predictions for today are continued cold, but relief is promised tomorrow.

Mr. Joe Starr, the gardener, stated this morning that he lost a great many canteloupes vines which he had not properly protected. He stated that most of the gardeners had prepared for the frost, the weather having come by degrees and given them a little time and for this reason the damage would not prove so great.

DELINQUENT TAX LIST SOLD.

It Shows Up Well for Taxpayers and for Treasurer.

The city delinquent tax list was sold this morning at public outcry by Treasurer John J. Dorian and was bought by Auditor Alex Kirkland for the city.

This is merely a formality, and the figures the list was bid in at total $5,786.91. Of this $4,859.34 is in white property owners' delinquency and $927.57 in colored.

Treasurer Dorian states that this is less than one-fourth per cent of the entire city assessment, and is quite a record in tax collections for the treasurer. It also bespeaks for the prompt payment by property owners of taxes.

Made Happy for Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, at St. Albans, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus' Dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew steadily worse until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters; and I rejoice to say, three bottles effected a complete cure." Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weaknesses, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by McPherson's drug store. Price 50c.

Trust to Nature.

A great many Americans, both men and women, are thin, pale and puny, with poor circulation, because they have ill-treated their stomachs by hasty eating or too much eating, by consuming alcoholic beverages, or by too close confinement to home, office or factory, and in consequence the stomach must be treated in a natural way before they can rectify their earlier mistakes. The muscles in many such people, in fact in every young, thin and thin-blooded person, do their work with great difficulty. As a result fatigue comes early, is extreme and lasts long. The demand for purgative aid is ahead of the supply. To insure perfect health every tissue, bone, nerve and muscle should take from the blood certain materials and return to the system others. It is necessary to prepare the stomach for the work of taking up from the food what is necessary to make good, rich, red blood. We must make Nature for the remedy. There were certain roots known to the Indians of this country before the advent of the whites which later came to the knowledge of the settlers and which are now growing rapidly in professional favor for the cure of obstinate stomach and liver troubles. These are found in all the stores yet obtain in their cleansing and invigorating effect upon the stomach, liver and blood. These are: Golden Seal root, Queen's Root, Sassafras root, Bloodroot, Mandaraka root. Then there is Blackberry bark. The medicinal principles residing in these native roots when extracted with glycerine as a solvent make the most reliable and efficient stomach tonic and liver invigorator, when combined in just the right proportions, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Where there is bankrupt vitality—such as nervous exhaustion, bad nutrition—and thin blood, the body acquires vigor and the nerves and all the tissues get the favorable effect of this sovereign remedy.

Although some physicians have been aware of the high medicinal value of the above mentioned plants, yet few have used pure glycerine as a solvent, and usually the doctors' prescriptions called for the ingredients in varying amounts, with alcohol.

The Golden Medical Discovery is a scientific preparation compounded of the glycerine extracts of the above mentioned vegetable ingredients and contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs.

DEATH DIVULGED SECRET.

Did and Respected Citizen of Carlisle County a Fugitive.

(From Bardwell News, 4th.)

Last Sunday at his home a short distance east of Bardwell there died a man, who so far as the public and his intimate friends are concerned, carried a secret to the grave with him. By his death facts were brought to light that astounded many of his neighbors. The man's right name was James A. Greer, but to the people here, he was known as James A. Gray. About 30 years ago Mr. Greer lived near Owensboro, Ky., with his wife and family and was recognized by all his acquaintances as an upright honorable man, a reputation he sustained throughout his citizenship here, for there is no man who can say that "Uncle Jim Gray," as we knew him, was not an honorable citizen. On an adjoining farm near Owensboro lived a brother-in-law of Mr. Greer's and one day while the latter was hunting in the woods, his brother-in-law accosted him in a manner that caused Greer to shoot and kill him. Immediately afterward he left home and came to this section, because, as reports go, he felt that he had acted in self-defense and did not care to undergo trial on the charge of murder. A reward was offered for his return to Owensboro at the time, but there were no efforts made to apprehend him. Some time after arriving in this section Mr. Greer married again and he leaves a wife and five children here, all first class citizens. He also has several sons living at Owensboro and they are among the most influential citizens of that section. W. T. Greer, a son by his first marriage, came down Monday in response to a message announcing the death of his father. Mr. Greer was always regarded as a good citizen and the revelation of the facts brought about by his death, created a great surprise. His family are regarded by all as being good citizens.

A Year of Blood.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tackett, of Alliance Ky., as a year of blood; which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tackett's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me at death's door, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astonishing result that after taking four bottles I was completely restored and as time has proven permanently cured." Guaranteed for sore lungs, coughs and colds, at McPherson's Drug Store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Mrs. Edward Shelton, of Mayfield, is visiting in the city.

POISONED, DRINKS

TOAST TO DEATH

Imagining He Has Four Wives, Takes Morphine and Then Tosses the Saloon.

New York, May 7.—"Here's peace to one who is dying, my friends! Drink hearty." The "friends," who did not know the tall Austrian who was paying for the drinks in saloons in the neighborhood of Ninth avenue and Fortieth street, drank in silence. When every glass was drained, Henry Lorenz, wounded veteran of the Boer army, put down his own goblet, and went on—

"I am the one who is dying, my friends. I have taken poison. Drink hearty again, my friends." Lorenz had gone through this performance in two of three places, and was buying a handful of cigars in a saloon on Ninth avenue conducted by P. Pungmell when an ambulance surgeon from Roosevelt hospital arrived and took him to that institution at 6:30 o'clock Friday night. Lorenz died there early Saturday morning of morphine poisoning. Before his death Lorenz said he had four living wives and gave their names.

The fact is Lorenz was drawing on his imagination when he told his tale of many marriages, and the women whom he named were furious when they heard of it.

Mrs. Anna Von Lunan, who lives at No. 128 West Fortieth street, a brisk young woman, put down her pretty little daughter when told that Lorenz had said he was married to her.

"I only wish my husband was here," said Mrs. Von Lunan. Mrs. Stossel, who rented a room to Lorenz at 420 West Fortieth street was another whom Lorenz named.

"I married her last Saturday, and because I could find no work," he told Giegerich, proprietor of a saloon near his home, she and her sons have thrown me out into the street.

"Well, I never!" said Mrs. Stossel. "And he told me all the time that he was married to that girl up the street."

Two other women whom Lorenz named were too frantic when told of the news to make any coherent comment.

Lorenz was a bricklayer. He received a letter from Germany on Thursday which excited him, and Friday morning he spent several hours drinking whisky in a Ninth avenue saloon. His usual tipple was beer. He repeated his performance in all the neighboring saloons he could reach before the ambulance surgeon caught up with him. Lorenz bore scars of wounds he said he had received at Ladysmith.

WOMAN A STUDY FOR ALIENISTS

Talks Coherently of Mental Condition, But Hopes She'll Be Proved Insane.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 7.—"The gallows, the penitentiary or the insane asylum confronts me," said Mrs. Kate B. Raymond, formerly of Washington, from her bed in the insane ward of the county hospital. "The district attorney has said that if I am not proved insane I will have to face a murder charge. If such is the case I will become insane for certain. If I am not already in that condition."

Mrs. Raymond is the woman who, while her 14-year-old son Frank slept, turned on the gas in their Hollywood home. Frank was dead the next morning and the mother was so nearly so that she did not regain consciousness until next morning.

"Do you believe that you are insane?" she was asked.

"Does an insane person ever believe that they are insane?" she queried in turn.

"It is generally supposed," she went on, "that a person is insane who attempts his or her own life. I loved my boy, but my fear was that I would be sent to the asylum, leaving him to fight the wicked world alone."

"I feel all right now, but naturally, in view of the terrible charge which might be brought against me, I would rather be proved insane than to face a criminal trial."

Mrs. Raymond is quite calm and her condition is improving.

THE SPENDERS

A TALE OF THE THIRD GENERATION

By HARRY LEON WILSON

Copyright by Lothrop Publishing Company.

"The Soul of Love wed the Soul of Truth and their daughter, Joy, was born; who was immortal and in whom they lived forever!"

"You see—that was the sort of moonshine I started to live. Two or three times I was a grievous disappointment to my people, and once or twice, perhaps, I was disappointed myself. I was never quite sure what I wanted. But if you think I was consistently mercenary you are mistaken."

"I shall tell you something more—something no one knows. There was a man I met while that ideal was still strong and beautiful to me—but after I'd come to see that here, in this life, it was not easily to be kept. He was older than I, experienced with women—a lover of women, I came to understand in time. I was a novelty to him, a fresh recreation—he enjoyed all those romantic ideals of mine. I thought then he loved me, and I worshipped him. He was married, but constantly said he was about to leave his wife, so she would divorce him. I promised to come to him when it was done. He had married for money and he would have been poor again. I didn't mind in the least. I tell you this to show you that I could have loved a poor man, not only well enough to marry him, but to break with the traditions, and brave the scandal of going to him in that common way. With all I felt for him I should have been more than satisfied. But I came in time to see that he was not as earnest as I had been. He wasn't capable of feeling what I felt. He was more cowardly than I—or rather, I was more reckless than he. I suspected it a long time; I became convinced of it a year ago and a little over. He became hateful to me. I had wasted my love. Then he became funny. But you see—I am not altogether what you believed me. Wait a bit longer, please."

"Then I gave up, almost—and later, I gave up entirely. And when my brother was about to marry that woman, and Mr. Shepler asked me to marry him, I consented. It seemed an easy way to end it all. I'd quit fondling ideals. And you had told me I must do anything I could to keep Fred from marrying that woman—my people came to say the same thing—and so—"

"If he had married her—if they were married now—then you would feel free to marry me?"

"You would still be the absurdest man in New York—but we can't discuss that. He isn't going to marry her."

"But he has married her—"

"What do you mean?"

"I supposed you knew—Oldaker told me as I left the hotel. He and your father were witnesses. The marriage took place this afternoon at the Arlington."

"You're not deceiving me?"

"Come, come!—girl!"

"Oh, pardon me! please! Of course I didn't mean it—but you stunned me. And papa said nothing to me about it before he left. The money must have been too great a temptation to him and to Fred. She has just made some enormous amount in a copper stock on something."

"I know, she had better advice than I had. I'd like to reward the man who gave it to her."

"And I was sure you were going to marry that other woman?"

"How could you think so?"

"Of course I'm not the least bit jealous—it isn't my disposition; but I did think Florence Akemitt wasn't the woman to make you happy—of course I liked her immensely—and there were reports going about—everybody seemed so sure—and you were with her so much. Oh, how I did hate her!"

"I tell you she is a joke and always was."

"It's funny—that's exactly what I told Aunt Cornelia about that—that man."

"Let's stop joking, then."

"How absurd you are—with my plans all made and the day set—"

There was a knock at the door. He went over and unlocked it. Jarvis was there.

"Mr. Shepler, Miss Alvie."

They looked at each other.

"Jarvis, shut that door and wait outside."

"Yes, Mr. Bines."

"You can't see him."

"But I must—we're engaged, don't you understand—of course I must!"

"I tell you I won't let you. Can't you understand that I'm not talking idly?"

She tried to evade him and reach the door, but she was caught again in his arms—held close to him.

"If you like he shall come in now. But he's not going to take you away from me, as he did in that jeweler's the other night—and you can't see him at all except as you are now."

She struggled to be free.

"Oh, you're so brutal!"

"He haven't begun yet—"

He drew her toward the door.

"Oh, no, that—don't open it—I'll tell him—yes, I will!"

"I'm taking no more chances, and the time is short."

Still holding her closely with one arm, he opened the door. The man stared impassively above their heads—a graven image of unconsciousness.

"Jarvis."

"Yes, sir."

"Miss Milbrey wishes you to say to Mr. Shepler that she is engaged—"

"That I'll tell him, she interrupted, still making little struggles to twist from his grasp, her head still bent down.

"I WON'T LET YOU."

upon those things they needed to observe. They saw something now that was at least two feet below their range.

The girl made a little move with her right arm, which was imprisoned fast between them, and which some intuition led her captor not to restrain. The girl little hand worked its way slowly up, went creepingly over his shoulder and bent lightly about his neck.

"Yes, sir," repeated Jarvis, without the quiver of an eyelid, and went.

He closed the door with his free hand, and they stood as they were until they heard the noise of the front door closing and the soft retreating footsteps of the butler.

"Oh, you were mean—mean—to shame me so," and floods of tears came again.

"I hated to do it, but I had to; it was a critical moment. And you couldn't have made up your mind without it."

She sobbed weakly in his arms, but her own arm was still tight about his neck. He felt it for the first time.

"But I had made up my mind—I did make it up while we talked."

They were back on the couch. He held her close and she no longer resisted, but nestled in his arms with quick little sighs, as if relieved from a great strain. He kissed her forehead and hair as she dried her eyes.

"Now, rest a little. Then we shall go."

"I've so much to tell you. That day at the jeweler's—well, what could I do but take one poor last little look of you—to keep?"

"Tell me if you care for me."

"Oh, I do, I do, I do care for you. I have—ever since that day we walked in the woods. I do, I do!"

She threw her head back and gave him her lips.

She was crying again and trying to talk.

"I did care for you, and that day I thought you were going to say something, but you didn't—you were so distant and troubled, and seemed not even to like me—though I felt sure you loved me. I had thought you were going to tell me, and I had accepted—yes, for the money—though I liked you so much. Why, when I first met you in that mine and thought you were a workman, I'm not sure I wouldn't have married you if you had asked me. But it was different again when I found out about you. And that day in the woods I thought something had come between us. Only after dinner you seemed kinder, and I knew at once you thought me—I knew it in the way a woman knows things she doesn't know at all. I went into the library with a candle to look into the mirror, almost sure you were going to come. Then I heard your steps and I was so glad—but it wasn't you—I'd been mistaken again—you still disliked me. I was so disappointed and hurt and heart-sick, and he kissed me and soothed me. And after that directly I saw through him, and I knew I truly did love you just as I wanted to love the man who would be my husband—only all that nonsense about money that had been dinned into me so long kept me from seeing it at first. But I was sure you didn't care for me when they talked so about you, and that—you never did care for her, did you—you couldn't have cared for her, could you?—and yet, after that night, I'd such a queer little feeling as if you had come for me, and had seen—"

"Surely a gentleman never sees anything he wasn't meant to see."

"I'm so glad—I should have been so ashamed—"

They were still a moment, while he stroked her hair.

"They'll be turning in early to-night, having to get up to-morrow and preach sermons—what a dreary place Heaven must be compared with this!"

She sat up quickly.

"Oh, I'd forgotten. How awful it is. I don't want to go."

"It will soon be over."

"But think of my people, and what's expected of me—think of Mr. Shepler."

"Shepler's doing some hard thinking for himself by this time."

"Really, you're a dreadful person—"

There was a knock.

"The cabman outside, sir, says how long is he to wait, sir?"

"Tell him to wait all night if I don't come; tell him if he moves off that spot I'll have his license taken away. Tell him I'm the mayor's brother."

"Yes, sir."

"And, Jarvis, who's in the house besides you?"

"Miss Briggs, the maid, sir—but she's just ready to go out, sir."

"Stop her—say Miss Milbrey wishes to ask a favor of her; and Jarvis."

"Yes, sir!"

"Go put on that neat black street coat of yours that fits you so beautifully in the back, and a purple cravat and your shiny hat, and wait for us with Briggs. We shall want you in a moment."

"Yes, Mr. Bines."

She looked at him wonderingly.

"We need two witnesses, you know I learned that from Oldaker just now."

"But do give me a moment, every thing is all so whirling and hazy."

"Yes, I know—like the solar system in its nebulous state. Well, hurry and make those worlds take shape. I can give you 60 seconds to find that I'm the north star. Ah! I have the Doctor von Herzl here—gossiping with—come, come! What's the use of any more delay? I've wasted nearly three hours here now, dilly-dallying along. But then, a woman never does know her own mind. Put a thing before her—all as plain as the multiplication table—and she must use up just so much good time telling a man that he's crazy—and shedding tears because he won't admit that two times two are 37." She was silent and motionless for another five minutes, thinking intently. "Come, time's up."

She arose.

"I'm ready. I shall marry you, if you think I'm the woman to help you in that big, new life of yours. They meant me not to know about Fred's marriage until after."

He kissed her.

"I feel so rested and quiet now, as if I'd taken down a big old gate, and let the peace rush in on me. I'm sure it's right. I'm sure I can help you."

She picked up her hat and gloves.

"Now I'll go bathe my eyes and fix my hair."

"I can't let you out of my sight, yet. I'm incredulous. Perhaps in 75 or 80 years—"

"I thought you were so sure."

"While I can reach you, yes."

She gave a low, delicious little laugh. She reached both arms up around him, pulled down his head and kissed him.

"There—boy!"

She took up the hat again.

"I'll be down in a moment."

"I'll be up in three, if you're not."

When she had gone he picked up an envelope and put a bill inside.

"Jarvis," he called.

The butler came up from below, dressed for the street.

"Jarvis, put this envelope in the inside of that excellent black coat of yours and hand it—afterward—to the gentleman we're going to do business with."

"Yes, Mr. Bines."

"And put your cravat down in the back, Jarvis—it makes you look excited the way it is now."

"Yes, sir; thank you, sir!"

"Is Briggs ready?"

"She's waiting, sir."

"Go out and get in the carriage, both of you."

"Yes, sir!"

He stood in the hallway waiting for her. It was a quarter past ten. In another moment she rustled softly down to him.

"I'm trusting so much to you, and you're trusting so much to me. It's such a rash step!"

"Must I—"

"No, I'm going. Couldn't we stop and take Aunt Cornelia?"

"Aunt Cornelia won't have a chance to worry about this until it's all over. We'll stop there then, if you like."

"Well, try Doctor Prendle, then. He's almost sure to be in."

"It won't make any difference if he isn't. We'll find one. Those horses are rested. They can go all night if they must."

"I have Grandmother Loekermann's wedding ring—of course you didn't fetch one. Trust a man to forget anything of importance."

His grasp of her hand during the ride did not relax.

Said purchaser, its successors or assigns, shall pay to the Treasurer of the City of Paducah, at the beginning of each year in advance, a license tax of Thirty Dollars ($30.00) upon each motor car, and Five Dollars ($5.00) upon each trailer car, operated by said line of railway, and pay at the rate of Thirty Dollars ($30.00) per motor car and Five Dollars ($5.00) for each trailer, added after the beginning of the year, and the City reserves to itself the right to increase the license tax herein provided to any sum not exceeding Fifty Dollars ($50.00) per annum per motor car.

Sec. 12. This Ordinance is subject to amendment after its passage at any time.

Sec. 13. Should said Company, its successors or assigns, fail for a period of thirty days (30) at any time to use or operate the franchise herein granted, or any part thereof where tracks are now laid, or shall hereafter be laid by the purchaser of this franchise, its successors or assigns, then the whole franchise shall become void; and any street or streets over which this franchise extends, on which tracks are not now laid and cars not operated, said streets must be utilized, tracks built and cars operated regularly, within a period of five years, or this grant so far as such streets are concerned, shall become null and void. This obligation, however, does not apply to such period of time as the purchaser, its successors or assigns, are shut down, or are not operating on account of repairs, or obstructions by the City; and should the purchaser transfer or assign said franchise herein granted, to any Company or Companies, individual or individuals, co-partnership or other person, natural or artificial, which may be already engaged in a similar competing line of business in the City of Paducah, then the franchise herein granted shall at once cease and become void; then should the purchaser to which this franchise is granted, transfer or assign the same, and fail to incorporate the provisions of requiring the party to whom same is transferred to obligate himself not to sell or transfer to a competing line, then, this franchise shall at once become void and inoperative.

Sec. 14. The City reserves the right to prescribe the number, kind and location of all switches and turn-outs to be used in the operation of the Street Railway, which may be operated by the said purchaser, its successors or assigns; and it also reserves the right to control and prescribe the kind and quality of the material to be used in replacing and repairing streets, and locations of all turn-outs, switches, curves and crossings of the streets to be used along the line of said railway, to be made at the exclusive cost of the purchaser its successors or assigns.

Sec. 15. Sec. 17. The City of Paducah reserves the right to take up and remove said railway or permit others to do so, whenever it shall be necessary to repair or improve streets, or to lay waterpipes, or sewer pipes, or for other public purposes, but such repairs or improvements shall be made without unnecessary delay, and any track thus removed shall be replaced by and at the expense of the party for whom the improvements were made.

Sec. 18. The owners of said street railway shall be liable in all cases, by reason of carelessness or negligence, or misconduct on the part of its agents or employees in the construction, use or management of said railway, and it shall hold the City harmless on account of any damages which may be claimed by owners of property, or by any person on account of laying of said track, or by reason of the laying thereof, or in the use thereof, by running cars on same.

Sec. 19. The General Council shall have the power to grant to one or more companies and individuals the right to occupy and use the above named railways, for not exceeding the distance of eight hundred (800) feet provided that the use of said eight hundred feet (800) feet shall become necessary for the purpose of connecting the line or lines of said railway with another line, or lines owned or operated by said other company or individuals and provided further, that the use and occupation of the said eight hundred (800) feet shall not materially interfere with or impede the use or occupation of same by either Company, its successors or assigns, or by the public; and provided further, that the expense of laying and keeping the same in repair, so far as is used by the different companies, or individuals shall be shared equally by all who make use thereof.

Sec. 20. The owners of said railway shall place, and continue there on good cars with modern conveniences, and may charge not more than Five (5) cents for each passenger and half fare for children between five and twelve years of age, and those under five years of age free when accompanied by responsible attendants; and the City reserves the right upon giving notice to the manager or Company thereof, to regulate the fare, time and speed, the number of trips per day to be made by the cars of said railway, as above set out.

This section is subject to the provisions of Section Eight as herein above set out.

Sec. 21. The following regulations shall be enforced, to-wit: No car shall be drawn at a greater rate of speed than eight (8) miles an hour, within the center of business portion of the City, and ten (10) miles per hour elsewhere. No car shall be allowed to stop over any foot crossing or in front of any intersecting streets, unless to avoid collision or damage; conductors and motormen shall keep a diligent watch for all teams, carriages and children, and upon the discovery of danger the cars shall be stopped in the shortest time and space possible. When a car is stopped at the intersection of a street, the rear platform must be in such position that passengers can conveniently step to or from the street crossing. The cars shall be entitled to the track, and any vehicle upon said track, or close to same shall turn out whenever the cars come up, and shall leave the track unencumbered, and the driver of any vehicle who shall refuse to leave the track with his vehicle, when requested or signaled by the conductor or motorman to do so, shall be fined Five Dollars ($5.00) for each offense to be paid into the City Treasury; and the same may be recovered by warrant or summons in the Paducah

City Court, as other fines may be recovered. Passengers shall be allowed to leave the cars in motion, except at their own peril. The cars shall be provided with lamps after sunset, and shall remain at either end of the route longer than fifteen (15) minutes. This railway shall not transport freight, but may carry parcels, baskets and small packages.

Sec. 22. If the owner of said railway shall fail to comply with the stipulations, regulations and requirements of this Ordinance, and such other Ordinances as the General Council may hereafter pass, by virtue of the right herein reserved to it, then this franchise may be declared null and void, and the tracks removed from the streets at the cost of the owners. But before such action is had, the General Council shall give twenty (20) days notice to the owners or Superintendent of said railways, of its intention to nullify these franchises at the regular meeting of the said General Council named in said notice.

Sec. 23. It shall be the duty of the owner of said railways to keep the streets over which the same pass in good repair within the limits and in the manner provided in Section 6 of this Ordinance.

Sec. 24. The purchaser of the franchise under this Ordinance shall give free transfers on all lines operated and owned by the purchaser of the franchise its successors or assigns.

Sec. 25. The purchaser of the franchise under this Ordinance shall within thirty (30) days after the sale and purchase of the same, give to the City of Paducah, in writing notice of the acceptance of the provisions thereof.

Sec. 26. And when the purchaser of said franchise, its successors or assigns, under this Ordinance, shall at any time, relay, or reconstruct any of its tracks, the same shall be relaid or reconstructed in accordance with the grade or grades, to be furnished by the City Engineer, to be approved by the Joint Street Committee, or the Board of Public Works.

WILL STUDY BABIES

BORN DURING FIRE

San Francisco Physicians Expect Youngsters to Show Unusual Tendencies.

San Francisco, May 7.—All the babies, numbering some half a hundred, left by the stork in the improvised camps in Golden Gate Park and on the Mission hills while San Francisco burned, have been carefully listed by a coterie of physicians and scientists, and the developments of the character of each is to be carefully watched for the effects of prenatal influence.

"We have the names and probable addresses of all the parents," said a prominent physician a few days ago, "and we expect interesting things when the little fellows begin to develop individuality. The shock of the terrible earthquake and the great fire that followed will surely, through its effect upon the mother at the time, have some peculiar effect upon the child."

"I personally know of a youngster whose mother, previous to his birth, went through three fires, the hotel and boarding houses in which she lived burning out. When that little fellow came into the world he was a natural-born incendiary, and his first act as a toddler was to set fire to the house. Repeatedly he dragged out clothes into the yard and set them on fire, and he contrived to make bonfires in the attic twice. At the age of seven he is still setting fires—a natural born 'firebug.'"

Entered Hospital Service.

Mr. Overton Brooks, son of Dr. J. G. Brooks, who will graduate in June from the medical department of the Northwestern University in Chicago, has entered the women's hospital in Chicago pending his graduation. The young doctor will probably not come to Paducah after his graduation, as first intended, but will go in for immediate hospital experience.

Dr. Brooks will likely go up to Chicago to attend his son's graduation.

Mrs. Don Hallows is recovering after an attack of fever.

CANINE "BOX CAR" ARTISTS.

Rather Singular Discovery Made On Cairo I. C. Freight Train.

Hobo dogs, not the common species of the roving mongrels of the city streets, but the species "hobo" strictly speaking, have made their appearance in Paducah, but fortunately it is not apparently their inclination to remain here.

Five dogs of sizes ranging from the tender terrier to the tough "mixed" breed were this morning discovered by Special Officer Dick Tolbert, of the local I. C. securely fortified in an out-bound train—the morning Cairo accommodation local freight. The dogs seemed to be enjoying themselves, and although the officer made no effort to oust them from their palace car, the engineers resented his attempt to open the door and peer in.

It is not understood whether the dogs are leaving to escape the cravings of the Igorrotes' appetites for dog flesh or whether they were noted away in the car by some scheming speculator to be sold to the tribe of dog-eating natives of the Philippines when the carnival opens elsewhere.

Any way the dogs had gone in for hobo live and were unmolested by the crew of the freight train.

MEDICOS COME TOMORROW.

Southwestern Medical Association to Hold Interesting Session.

Tomorrow the Southwestern Medical Association convenes in this city for its annual session. Prospects are for an interesting meeting and for a delightful social occasion. The sessions will be held in the Knights of Pythias hall on Broadway. Tuesday night the doctors and invited guests will take a ride on the Dick Fowler, with refreshments and music to enliven the evening. The convention will occupy two days, Tuesday and Wednesday.

THE PRESIDENT POINTS HIS WAY

Explains His Idea of the Railway Rate Bill and Pending Amendments.

Washington, May 7.—In view of the publications Saturday regarding the president's position on the question of railroad rate legislation and the amendments proposed, an authoritative statement was issued at the White House today defining the president's position.

The statement follows: "The so-called Allison amendment in the president's judgment simply states affirmatively what the president believes is already contained in the Hepburn bill; but if there is the slightest doubt as to its being thus already contained in the bill, the president would insist upon its being put in because unless it is thus contained, the bill undoubtedly would be void."

"Therefore as incorporating the Allison amendment under no circumstances would do anything but good and as there is an honest doubt on the part of some of the sincere adherents of the bill, whatever it is or is not, already by implication contained in the bill, the president is clearly of the opinion that the Allison amendment should be put in and this without regard as to whether this or other amendments are adopted."

"If the Hepburn bill, therefore, passes in this form, which is practically the exact form in which it passed the house, it will be satisfactory to the president, who from the beginning has stated that the Hepburn bill itself would be satisfactory. But the president would like, if in addition to the Allison amendment, the so-called Long and Overman amendments were adopted. While the president regards these amendments with favor and would like to see them adopted, he does not in the least regard them as vital, and feels that the Hepburn bill would still be in excellent shape even without them."

Mr. Charlie Goodman has returned from Huntington, W. Va., where he had been for several weeks.

Theatrical Notes

Viola Allen appears as Betty Bingleton, in Clyde Fitch's play, "The Toast of the Town," at The Kentucky In today night. The general impression seems to be that Miss Allen never appeared to better advantage than as Betty Bingleton, who is supposed to be a famous actress who lived during the time of George III. "The Toast of the Town" is in four acts, and is provided with a production truly Fitchian, which means that it is novel and artistic. Miss Allen's supporting company, always of the best quality, includes Isale Irving, Mrs. Fanny Addouh, Paul Harrison Hunter, Norman Tharp and C. Leslie Allen.

CANINE "BOX CAR" ARTISTS.

rather Singular Discovery Made On Calco L.C. Freight Train.

Hobo dogs, not the common species of the roving mongrels of the city streets, but the species "hobo" strictly speaking, have made their appearance in Paducah, but fortunately it is not apparently their inclination to remain here.

Five dogs of sizes ranging from the tender terrier to the tough "mixed" breed cur dog, were this morning discovered by Special Officer Dock Tolbert, of the local I. C., securely fortified in an out-bound train—the morning Calco accommodation local freight. The dogs seemed to be enjoying themselves, and although the officer made no effort to oust them from their palace car, the canines resented his attempt to open the door and peer in.

It is not understood whether the dogs are leaving to "escape the cravings of the Ignoramus' appetites for dog flesh or whether they were stored away in the car by some scheming speculator to be sold to the tribe of dog-eating natives of the Philippines when the carnival opens elsewhere. Any way the dogs had gone in for hobo life and were unbothered by the crew of the freight train.

You could tell by looking at him why the rouster who was bossing was boss. His physique told of physical supremacy; his air of command told of mental superiority. That he should be as he was the boss of the crew was a matter of course. He was belaboring directions when he himself received an order from the mate. Immediately his whole atmosphere changed from one of conscious superiority to one of conscious inferiority. He knew his superior had spoken; and The Sun reporter turned away with a lesson from such a fine spirit of discipline.

POINTS HIS WAY

Explains His Idea of the Railway Rate Bill and Pending Amendments.

Washington, May 7.—In view of the publications Saturday regarding the president's position on the question of railroad rate legislation and the amendments proposed, an authoritative statement was issued at the White House today defining the president's position.

The statement follows: "The so-called Allison amendment in the president's judgment simply states affirmatively what the president believes is already contained in the Hepburn bill; but if there is the slightest doubt as to its being thus already contained in the bill, the president would insist upon its being put in because unless it is thus contained, the bill undoubtedly would be void.

"Therefore as incorporating the Allison amendment under no circumstances would do anything but good and as there is no honest doubt on the part of some of the sincere adherents of the bill, whatever it is or is not, already by implication contained in the bill, the president is clearly of the opinion that the Allison amendment should be put in and this without regard as to whether this or other amendments are adopted.

"If the Hepburn bill, therefore, passes in this form, which is practically the exact form in which it passed the house, it will be satisfactory to the president, who from the beginning has stated that the Hepburn bill itself would be satisfactory. But the president would like, if in addition to the Allison amendment, the so-called Long and Overman amendments were adopted. While the president regards these amendments with favor and would like to see them adopted, he does not in the least regard them as vital, and feels that the Hepburn bill would still be in excellent shape even without them."

Mr. Charlie Goodman has returned from Huntington, W. Va., where he had been for several weeks.

Theatrical Notes

Viola Allen appears as Betty Singleton, in Clyde Fitch's play, "The Toast of the Town," at the Kentucky Theatre tonight. The general impression seems to be that Miss Allen never appeared to better advantage than as Betty Singleton, who is supposed to be a famous actress who lived during the time of George III. "The Toast of the Town" is in four acts, and is provided with a production truly Fitchian, which means that it is novel and artistic. Miss Allen's supporting company, always of the best quality, includes Isabel Irving, Mrs. Fanny Addison, Pat Harrison Hunter, Norman Sharp and C. Leslie Allen.
